VIRGINIA

Faces make first impressions. They often give away the hidden feelings inside a person. No two faces are exactly alike. Each person expresses individuality in every face he makes.

TOGETHERNESS

AT WOODSON

High School is a place where many friends are made. Some of these friendships last long after high school. While still in school, many of the things we do are with these friends. It is this togetherness that makes everything more fun.

"O HAPPY DAY!"

They did it again! Music leaders Mr. Grant, Mr. Cappel, Mr. T.T. Lawrence and Miss Wharton suffered through two months of lost music sheets, uncooperative personalities, sore throats, broken violin strings and the usual jitters and headaches to produce the 1974 Extravaganza—a musical variety show true to its twelve year old tradition of excellence! Five choruses participated, each developing their own individual acts, and constructing their own set. The end results varied from themes of color to the hustle-bustle of Broadway. The Orchestra and Stage Band displayed their best efforts to produce the very professional sounds they are known for. Each of these acts was connected by musical selections by Woodson's number 1 band—Symphonic Band—. . .

The Chorale goes "mmm".

"Follow the leader"

. . . and also by individual "filler" acts. These acts came straight from the imagination of the music department. Together with the fast-moving stage crew, the six-hundred member Extravaganza cast did indeed get it together to produce another smash hit.

T.T. Lawrence gets the best out of his players.

FOOTBALL?

See Judy Run! Run, Judy! Run!

A classic example of a cheerleader and "her" football star "boy" friend.

Move that ball girls! Move that ball!

This year's crop of lovely, vivacious cheerleaders.

Hairy legs in a skirt! Girls wearing ties! What is everyone laughing about? It's November 22 at Woodson High, the day of the big game—THE TURKEY BOWL. The players are on the field waiting to kick-off . . . ten minutes later . . . where is the football? Finally the game is under way. Incomplete passes, uneven quarters and lots of effort highlighted the game. The Juniors were ecstatic when they won 8-0 and there was talk of a re-match. The girls don't play bad football after all!

DAYDREAMING

FARAWAY IN THE SUNSHINE ARE OUR HIGHEST DREAMS.
We may not reach our aspirations, but we can look up and see them.
Dreams do come true if we only wish hard enough.
We can have anything in life if we are willing to sacrifice for it.

STOP-STATE

The beginning of another day.

I didn't know they allowed dogs here!

Hey! Where is everybody going?

Are you kidding I wouldn't eat here.

Soon after sunrise, the first of dozens of long yellow vehicles arrives at the front of the building, followed by many more. A great number of individuals come off and enter. Hundreds of others arrive in cars and on foot until the building is quite full. A bell is rung and each individual sets out on his specific routine for the day. Many faces fill each classroom as they have so many times before. As each period passes, the clocks click in unison.

At the sound of the bell the people leave their rooms and soon board their buses for their ride home. Some stay behind to engage in special activities such as athletics and clubs. Later the others leave also, and the building is quiet.

Through diligent work, many frustrations and lots of sweat, students constructed the most exceptional ensemble of floats ever judged at Woodson.

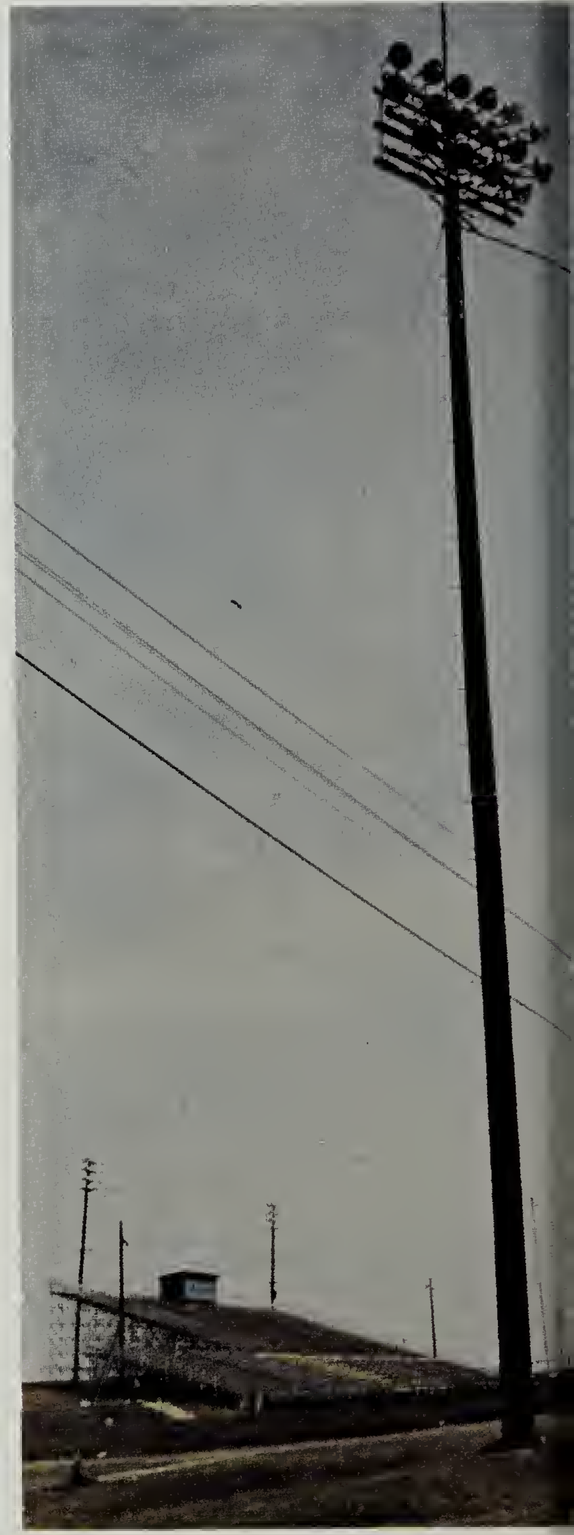
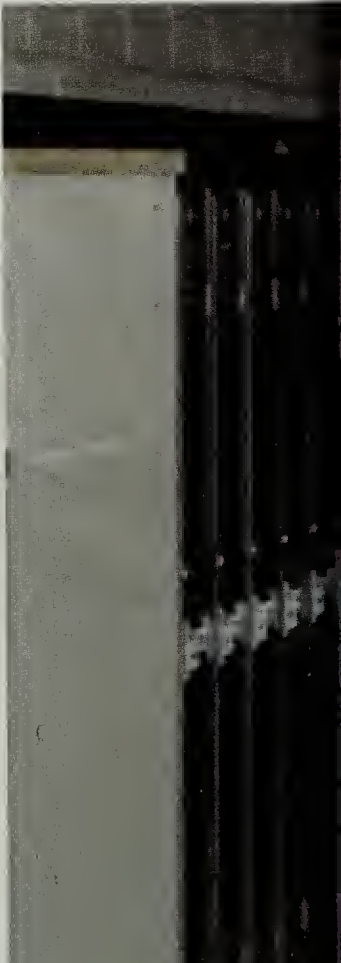
A first prize ribbon for the winning float.

There is excitement in the air, tension all around. Each person is silent and hopeful, waiting for the final results. What float will win? Who is the Homecoming Queen? Will we win the game? All these questions and many more race through each person's mind.

Tammy Wheeler, Sheri Witt, Maria Schroeder, Paula Schertz, Gwendy Saari, Pam Reynolds, Magda Nodarse and Barbara Miller anxiously await the final decision. The school cheered when Gwendy Saari was crowned queen. Tension was released through the cheers and shouts of the senior class as their float was designated first place.

JUST AN INSTITUTION?





A lonely place without people, just a building made of bricks so empty and meaningless, void of depth and soul . . . yet there are memories of experiences within the walls—memories to make it more than brick, thoughts to fill the space and give it purpose . . . remembrances that breathe life into the dust.

Chris "Reb" Johnson is stunned by a rebellious frisbee.

Each student finds his own place to be — whether it be outside or in; it is his. Pleasure and work combined fill each day.

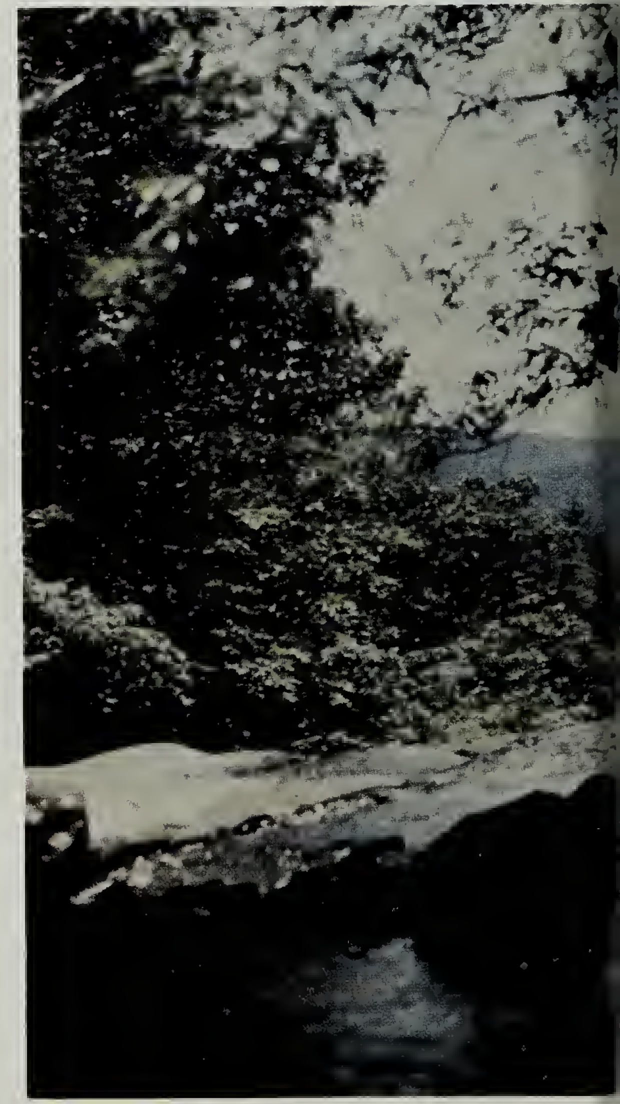
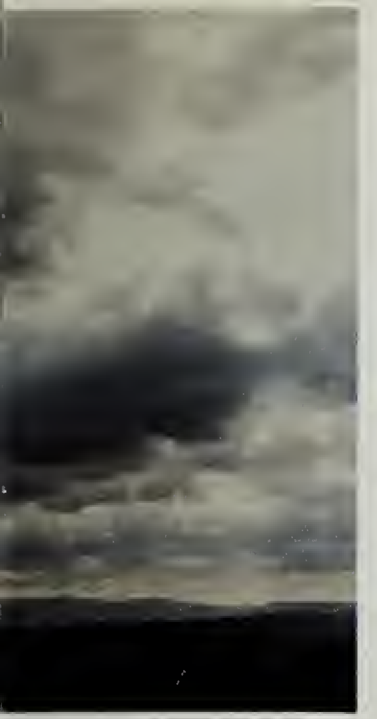
FRIENDSHIP...





Like dew and the freshness of morn.
Like brooks where the sweet water flow.
Like the clouds when the sun dips low.
Like the mountains that arch the blue heavens.
Like music heard on the sky,
Like these is the love of a friend.

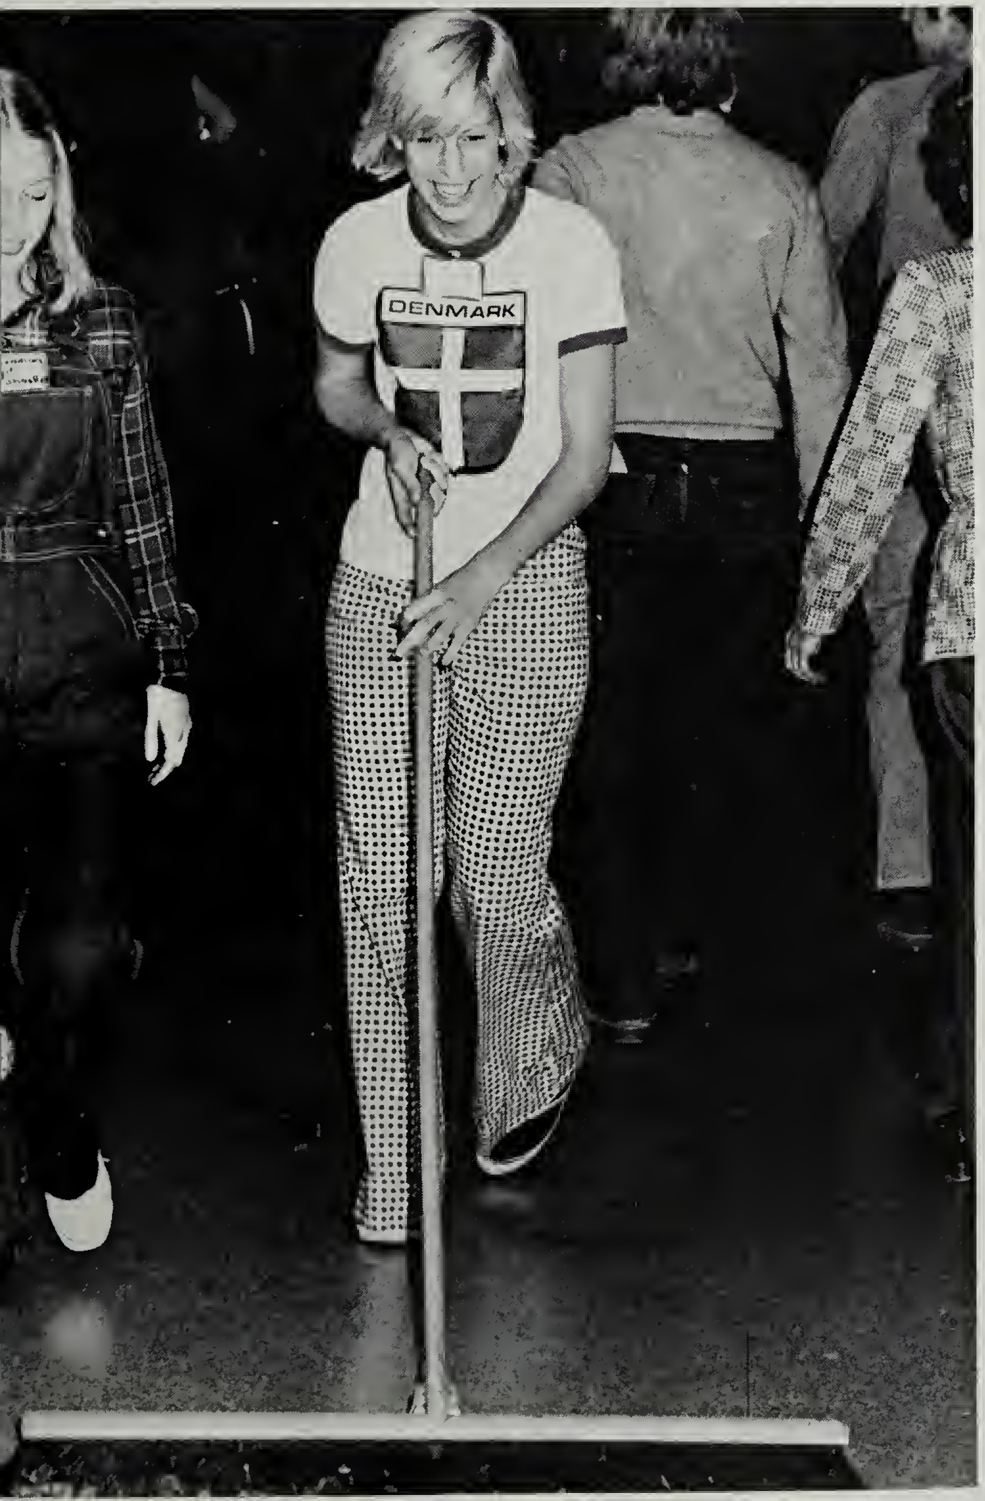
SENIORS TAKE OVER!

Is that what really happened?

Mr. Billak flirts with his secretary.



This isn't so bad after all!

Mr. Morgan . . . smiling?

The cafeteria crew eats lunch—from the machines.

You walk into first period as usual, but somehow the teacher is different. It is not your teacher at all, but one of your classmates. Later you find the same conditions exist throughout the school. New janitors roam the halls and strange people handle the cafeteria food. Obviously it is not your average school day, but Senior Take Over Day.

Sadie Hawkins

The dance was so enthusiastically attended that the cafeteria became unbearably hot. Swarms of people were trying to cool off in the hall yet they could not even find room to breathe. A line of couples waited to get "hitched" by Marryin' Sam. Girls received a wedding ring and the happy couples were issued a marriage license. Everyone wore overalls, plaid shirts, straw hats, topped off by vegetable corsages and painted freckles. All this was made possible by the Junior Class.

The heat gets to the best of us!

Everyone needs time to relax and to forget the day's pressure. There are almost as many ways to relax as there are students at Woodson. Some hobbies require only the desire while others great patience and skill.

Christmas Dance

The Senior Class gave the lovely dance, "An Old Fashioned Christmas". With vacation coming, a band playing and friends talking, the evening of December 21st was an enjoyable one. Robin Scott was crowned Queen surrounded by the clapping of friends.

The ability to hide one's own personality behind a curtain of expressions and words is a talent, a talent to be developed. Ms. Bedinger is the one in charge of bringing out Woodson's talent. Another opportunity for students to try something new.

Conquest of the Planet of the Apes?

"The one in the middle's mine."

Miss Peachy Keen is a fairy nice fellow.

Junior Jollies has been postponed. Junior Jollies has been cancelled. Junior Jollies will be February 22. In spite of a great deal of confusion Junior Jollies was performed. The class showed its good looks and talent in a beauty contest. Chip Hibson, Miss Peachy Keen, was crowned Miss Woodson. Smaller acts ranged from guitar playing to the Galloping Gourmet. The Juniors had fun and made money by displaying their "talents."

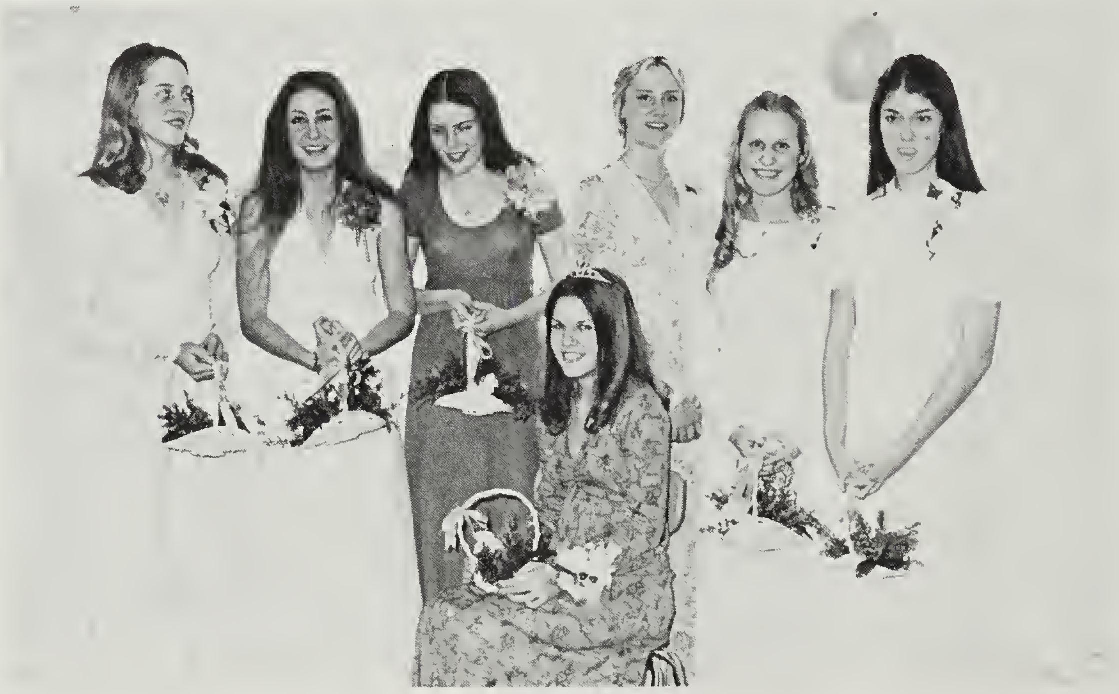
My feet are killing me.

There was a scarcity of jobs throughout the area. It was impossible to find jobs anywhere. Students searched and searched, but only a few were lucky enough to find one. For students who did find jobs, much of their free time was spent working. The kinds of work as well as the reasons for working were varied.

SWEETHEART DANCE

Valentine's Day had just arrived and everyone was in the mood for a semi-formal dance. Some people had preferred it to be a soc-hop, but the Juniors decided against it. The night was cold but inside it was very hot even though the attendance was less than normal.



The Sweetheart Court: Gina Aamodt, Judy Direnzo, Susan Ehmke, Susan Hansen, Margie Punzelt, Patti Holcomb, and Cindy Shafer.

CIRCLE GAME

by Joni Mitchell

Yesterday a child came out to wonder;
Caught a dragonfly inside a jar.
Fearful wind, the sky was full of thunder
And tearful at the falling of a star.

And the seasons
They go round and round and
The painted ponies go up and down.
We're captive on a carousel of time.
We can't return;
We can only look behind from where we came
And go round and round and round in the circle game.

Then the child moved ten times round the seasons;
Skated over ten clear, frozen streams.
Words like 'when you're older' must appease him.
And promises of someday make up his dreams.

And the seasons
They go round and round and
The painted ponies go up and down.
We're captive on a carousel of time.
We can't return;
We can only look behind from where we came
And go round and round and round in the circle game.

Sixteen springs and sixteen summers gone now.
Cartwheels turn to car wheels through the town.
You tell her, "Take your time; it won't be long now
Til you drag your feet just to slow the circles down."

And the seasons
They go round and round and
The painted ponies go up and down.
We're captive on a carousel of time.
We can't return;
We can only look behind from where we came
And go round and round and round in the circle game.

So the years spin by and now the boy is twenty.
Though his dreams have lost a lot of grandeur coming true,
There'll be new days, maybe better dreams.
There'll be plenty of new dreams
Before the last revolving year is through.

And the seasons
They go round and round and
The painted ponies go up and down.
We're captive on a carousel of time.
We can't return;
We can only look behind from where we came
And go round and round and round in the circle game.

And go round and round and round in the circle game.

"Togetherness" is an idea which definitely fits self-supporting Precisionettes. They are together so much that they begin to be like sisters. They perform at football games, basketball games and at parades. They also perform for retarded children and nursing homes. They work very hard at trying to perfect routines and to develop versatility. Approximately 800 hours per year are spent in practice and performance.

Who drags themselves out of bed at ungodly hours in the morning to play just for you? Who is so devoted that they subject themselves to rowdy rehearsals and headaches on the buses to (and especially from) away games? And now and then who can be heard stomping through halls 6th period with their thunderous drums and spirited music urging Woodson on to victory? THE PEP BAND—a group of musicians out for a good time (and free entrance into games). They inspire enthusiasm and spirit throughout the student body, set the bodies of the cheerleaders and Precisionettes into motion and the batons of the Baton Corps to twirling.

Pep Club is Not just for girls. Boys are welcome to join and help promote school spirit. Although many think it the work of the cheerleaders, Pep Club decorates the goal posts, makes banners, and sells ribbons and pennants for the games. They also decorate for all the Awards Banquets and put on banquets once a week for the Spring sports. This club deserves recognition and gratitude. Pep Club, we thank you!

The Sword and Feather Tri-Hi-Y club was reorganized this year with Pam Bonner as President, Linda Welton—Vice President, Betsy Miller—Secretary, and Becky Young, the club's Treasurer. Lollipops and baked goods were favorite sale items which they used to raise money. This money was used for visiting an old folk's home, bringing them cakes for their birthdays and singing songs. A canoeing trip was planned for late spring.

VICA

VICA—Vocational Interest Clubs of America. How many people could repair a booby-trapped car, or an air conditioner—with a time limit? These and many other areas are involved in the biggest event of the year for VICA, the skills contest held in the spring. The contest is held on different levels, regional, district, state, and national. This years national competition was held at the Hilton in Washington. The club also had parties, went ice skating, and donated dinners to the needy.

AYD—Aiding Youth Development—was involved with sixth graders in schools in this area. In answer to the question "How will you and the sixth graders benefit from this program?", it was said "I get as much out of it as the kids do." . . . "I learn how to relate better to kids and I feel there's a lot I can teach them." . . . "The program helps prepare them for Jr. High and High School."

AYD is a give and take situation.

The program involved meeting in class rooms with the children, playing games to help break the ice and get to know them, and answering any questions they had. The group was sponsored by the Red Cross and met at the Red Cross Chapter House with participating students from other schools to form a group of about 30 concerned and giving teenagers.

Educating students in the various aspects of the environment is the main aim of the students involved in Students for Environmental Action. Their main projects were planting white pine seedlings in front of the school, making a sound barrier, and building an outdoor classroom.

This year SAE Club got off to a fresh start. Their name was changed, and the sponsor, the officers, the members, and the game plan were also different. Mrs. Cashion along with Betsy Miller, Leslie Spatz, Kathy Roberts, Maureen Burns, and Karen Rivett organized speakers and teaching schedules. Every other week this club student taught at various neighboring elementary and junior high schools. 1974-75 seemed to be a very rewarding year for all.

FBLA

AAX#@$&&!%$(%%#?!!?!

FBLA members group around one of their future executives.

DECA sponsor, Mr. Woodson, works with some students.

REALLY?!

The FBLA is a club that brings the students that are interested in business careers together. Although the club was at a standstill this year, they plan to join local, state, and national competition next year.

DECA—Distributive Education Club of America is a club in which many of the members are trying to better themselves by acquainting themselves with the business world. They participate in competitions—in events such as merchandising and advertising. When a member decides on a career, he can then receive on the job training. Many stores like Sears, Penney's and Giant award scholarships and some allow students to run the entire store for one day. The 1974-75 DECA Theme: "Founded on pride—Strengthened on service."

DECA

NHS

The aim of NHS was to get members involved and to provide service for the school. Both objectives were successfully reached. Separate committee meetings were called—tutoring, inductions, activities, publicity, and curriculum. The tutoring service was so popular that the demand exceeded the supply of "teachers". The inductions committee obtained speakers and coordinated the two induction ceremonies held each year. Extra-society functions were planned by the activities committee which appealed to all. One such activity was attending the musical The Odyssey.

Bob Godec, pictured, and Jay Thomas won nominations for a NHS scholarship.

Meetings for the entire society were held only when necessary to allow members to participate in their other activities.

PSAB

In a Principal-Student Advisory Board meeting, the atmosphere is one of mutual respect and concern. The students and Mr. Phipps are brought together at a more equal level; all contribute their ideas and suggestions freely. Discussions are intelligent and informal, they deal with not only awareness of problems but with the initiation of solutions and new plans.

Members at a county meeting review concert regulations.

Concern plus discussion yields workable solutions.

SAC

The Student Advisory Council initiates change. Representatives meet and relate problems common to our area's high schools. Together they discuss and draw up bills for presentation to the school board. Their main concern is human relations; they wish to promote student involvement in the school. They are an excellent example because the SAC is a most effective means of student representation.

Decorating cafeterias for the holidays, sponsoring a Bikeathon, organizing the student exchange program and directing court elections for dances and implementing the Beneficial Suggestion Committee were new endeavors; others were tried and true but whatever Student Union did, the interests of the students were paramount.

Don't talk to US about productivity!

No, The Cavalcade does not appear out of thin air or grow on a tree. The staff works hard to produce an interesting and informative newspaper. It is created through devotion, imagination, intelligence and awareness.

Here communication is essential. Without cooperation, consideration and an exchange of ideas, the yearbook is an impossibility. Under the new sponsorship of Mrs. Conway the complaints were voiced and problems adjusted; then the group was able to set to work. Experience is important. So is creativity and boldness. Some of us went to the VHSL seminar held at U. Va. to attend classes and lectures. Others had spent a week in August at a camp. New methods were learned, new policies suggested and imaginations were triggered. The desire to create an outstanding, unified, yet diverse book prevailed; many can recall working until 11 pm to make a deadline. We believe the headaches, pressures and sleepless nights are worth it. We hope you do too, because this is not the staff's yearbook, it is OUR book—everyone's.

Any student at Woodson, may find a place for the products of his creativity. Each piece, be it art, photography or literature, is carefully and beautifully compiled to form The Page, which is distributed yearly. This art and literary magazine has won many state and national awards; the sponsor, Mrs. Keever, has high hopes of winning many more.

The Fine Arts Union consists of a small group of hardworking, talented students. This year they had a 1975 calendar printed which was a great success. Therefore, they plan to carry on the tradition for the next several years. Their annual Christmas Bazaar was most creative and exceptional this year. They planned a large Spring Arts Fair and a trip to New York in early Spring.

Thespians

The eyes have it.

We're sorry! It won't happen again!

Let's be neighborly.

The Drama Department's fall presentation consisted of two short plays, "Star Spangled Girl", and "Black Comedy". "Black Comedy" poked fun at the foibles of a group of people brought together during a London blackout. "Star Spangled Girl" dealt with a love-crazed writer and how his boss tried to keep him and their magazine from becoming extinct. January had the club preparing for the One Act Play Festival. The Senior Class play, "Fiddler on the Roof", was sponsored by the Drama Department and was performed in May.

Drama Club

There are two drama groups in our school. The Drama Club is a large group made up of students interested in drama. Thespians are those students who have given their utmost effort in the wholeness of the productions, they not only act but are also active behind the scenes. These two groups are the backbone of all school theatrical productions.

For the Freshman Girl's Chorus, the year began with their half diabolical-half saintly performance in Extravaganza. They swung their tails and bounced their halos to popular tunes like "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes", "I Never Promised You a Rose Garden", and "I Feel the Earth Move". Busily readying themselves for the holiday season, they prepared such songs as "Silver Bells" and "Ala-nanita-nana" for their Christmas Concert. The Spring Concert completed the year with the girls looking back on all the crazy times they had shared.

The choir sings "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

FRESHMEN GIRL'S CHORUS

Concert choir is a small, folk-pop group. They sang in Extravaganza, in a satirical performance dubbed "Ham-a-lot". Throughout the year, they have enlightened peoples hearts with their concerts and by singing for hospitalized children and adults.

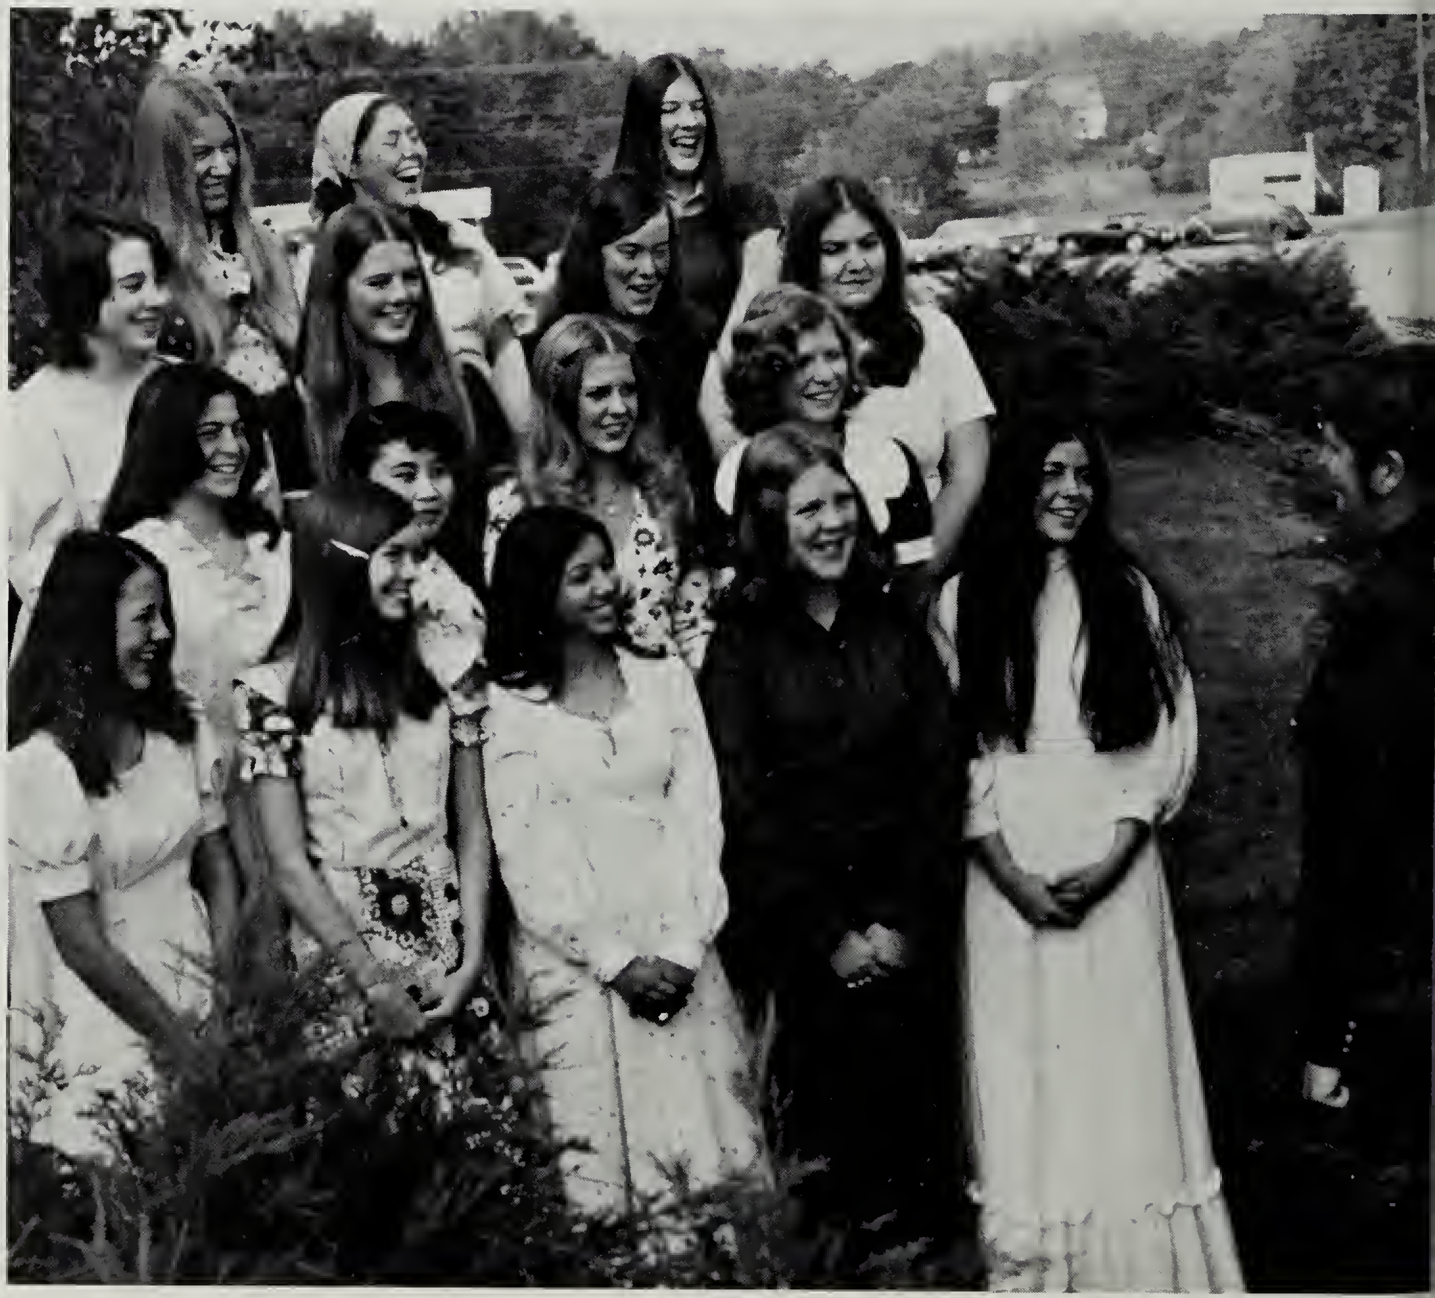
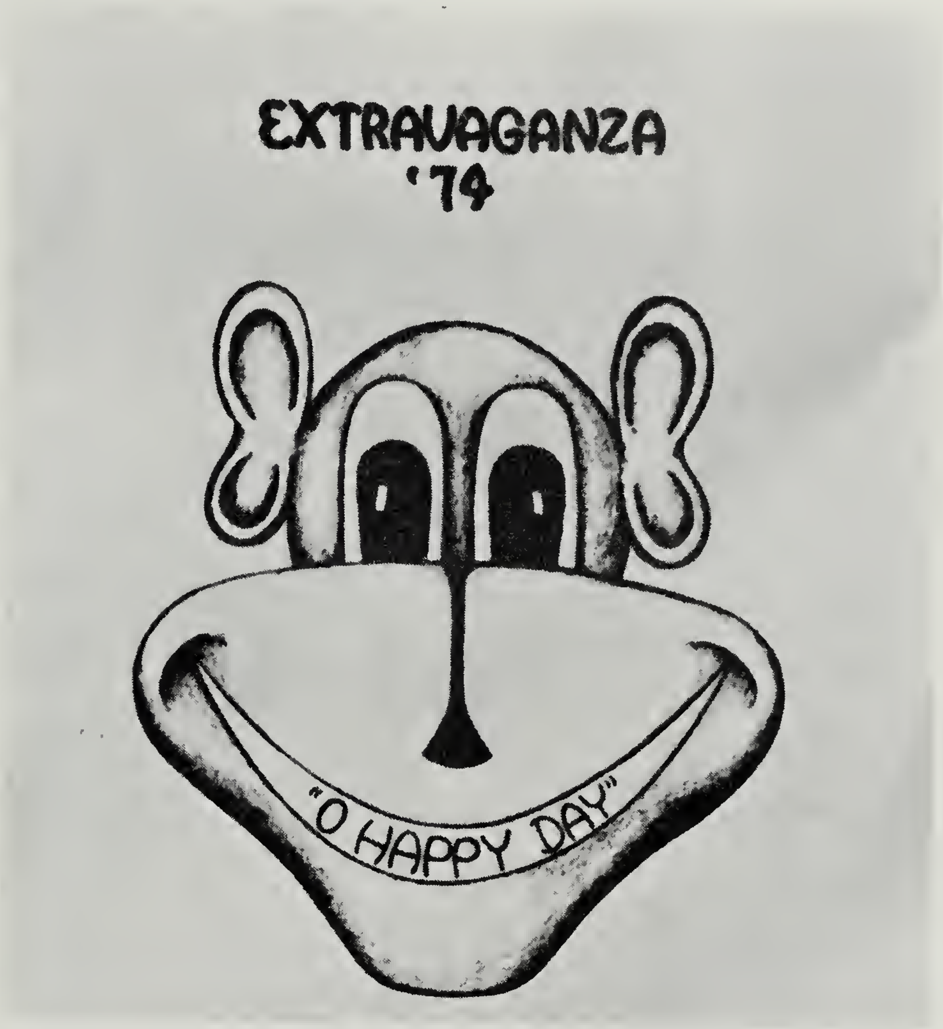
Choralettes is a training situation involving a small group of girls. They are predominantly juniors and seniors. Their act in Extravaganza, called Number Please!, and their Christmas and Spring concerts were their main activities. These girls make up in enthusiasm what they lack in size.



CHORALETTES

The "operators" in "Number, Please!"



Throughout the year Treble Choir was divided due to differences of opinion. For example, they disagreed in the choices of songs and Extravaganza costumes. Although many arguments arose, problems were resolved by concert time and enjoyable performances were well received. Mr. Cappel said of the choir, "It's a typical women's choir — always talking!" Still, much singing is done and everyone has a good time.

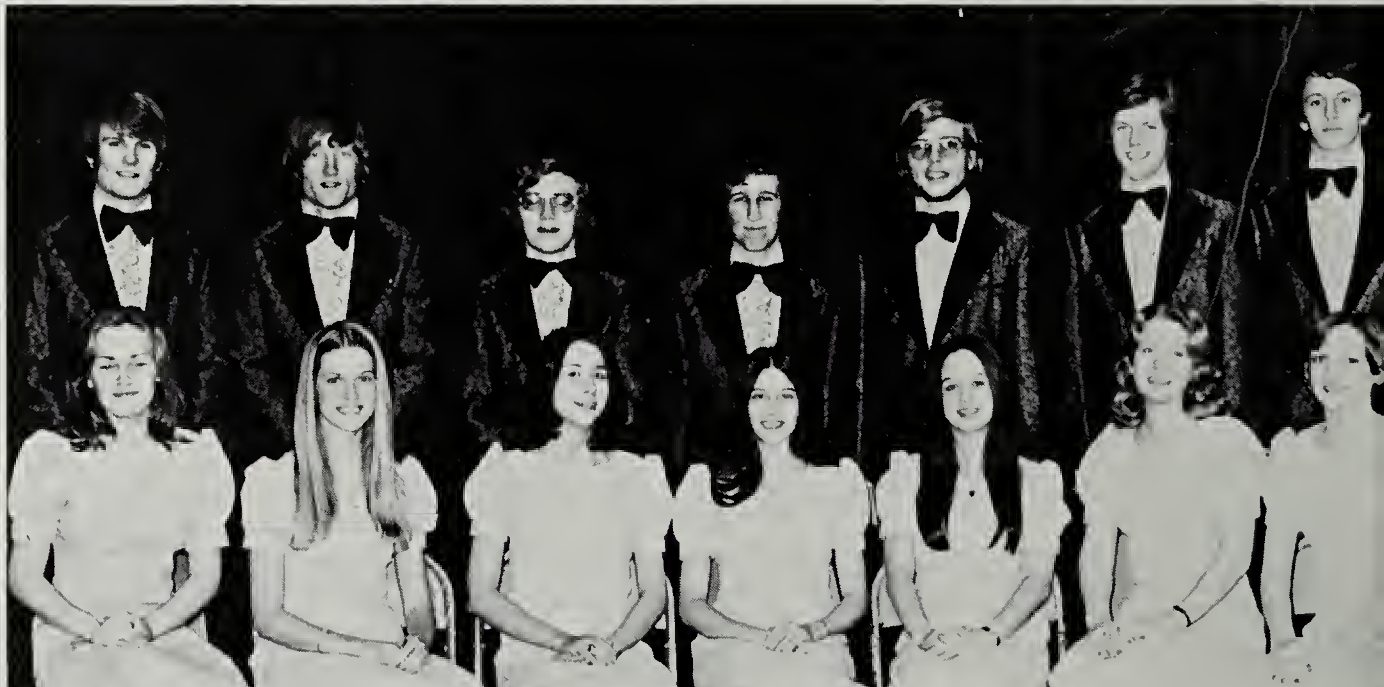
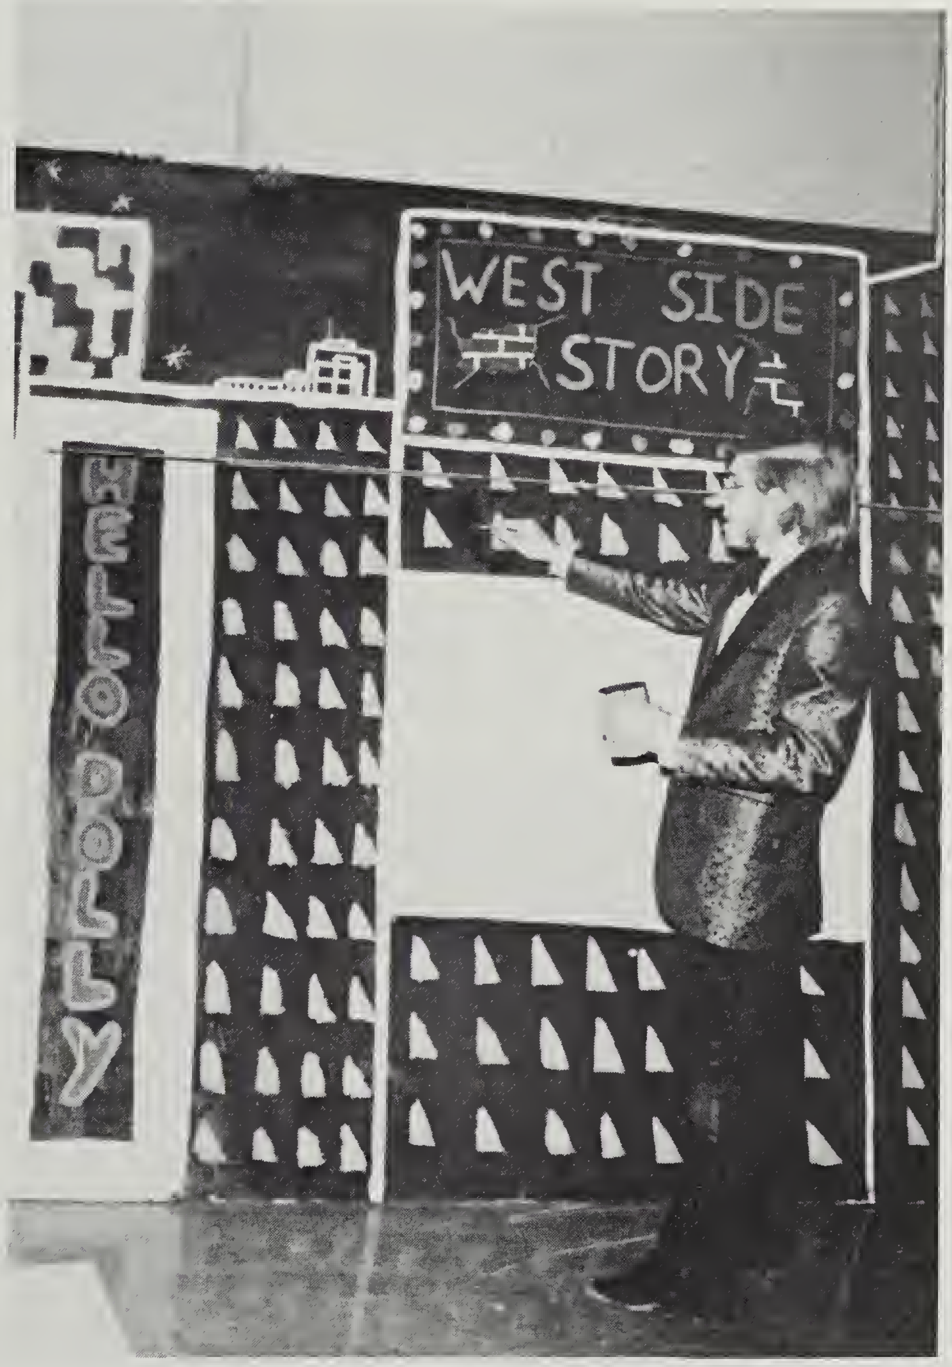
Chorale



Symphonic Choir



With the show nearing, Bob Fisher adds last minute touches to the set.

Closers for Extravaganza.

Symphonic Choir, Woodson's representative choir, was involved in several activities this year. They performed a musical skit entitled Broadway in Extravaganza. As the holidays approached, they prepared for their Yule assembly and concert. Their next concert was performed in the Spring. Other activities included assemblies at elementary schools, individual participation in All-Regional, All-County and All-State choruses, and their exchange weekend.

Among the members of Symphonic Choir is a small group known as chorale. They met once a week at one of their homes to sing. Besides participation in all the Symphonic Choir affairs, they had their own activities including an act in Extravaganza and a Spring picnic.

Reserve Band

Reserve Band, a non-performing group, is designed to strengthen basic techniques and musicianship. The band offers the student the opportunity to become proficient in scales, rhythms, and music theory. Students are also able to learn a second instrument. For the band, consisting of primarily freshmen, the entire school year is a learning experience.

It's not easy to play in the morning.

Concert Band

This was the Concert Band's first year marching at JV games in uniform. Practicing during and after school, the band put much effort and hard work into the shows. The culmination was at the last football game when they joined the Symphonic Band in a marching spectacular featuring the Precisionettes. Concerts were given and music prepared for the Band Festival in the Spring. The Concert Band combined with Symphonic made Woodson the largest contributor of musicians to this area's All-Regional Bands.

Woodson's All-Regional Senior Band Members.

The trumpets perform their death-defying feat.

This year's marching band thrilled the spectators with their execution of the trumpet guillotine and the 1812 Overture Finale. They then moved inside to prepare for Extravaganza, held in November. Drawing the largest crowds ever, the show was another great success. Throughout the year the band raised money, hoping to take part in the annual competition at Six Flags Over Georgia as their Spring trip. They also participated in the Band Festival and sent students to the All-Regional Band and Solo-Ensemble Festival.

Orchestra

Many talented musicians comprise Woodson's orchestra. In the Arlington Symphonic Scholarship Competition, Richard Silvey placed in the senior piano division, Kathy Daub in the senior string section and John Matzner in the junior string section. Students also made the All-State Orchestra, held April 11-13 in Roanoke: Mike Heald, Tom Rike, Bruce Christensen, Sue Johnson, Kathy Daub and Jeff O'Brien. The group played 'Camelot' in Extravaganza and entered the March 15 Festival. They also featured student soloists in several concerts.

IT'S ACADEMIC

Using two shoe boxes full of index cards filled with questions plus quizzes clipped from the newspaper and Reader's Digest, our It's Academic Team practiced every afternoon the week before their games. At practice, one person reads the questions to the remaining members. Sometimes they break into two teams and scrimmage. It's important that all members be well-read and well informed.

Contrary to common belief, the ADMINISTRATION is not the true source of power at Woodson. The members of International Affairs Club, calling on their vast reserves of diplomatic tactfulness — lying, cheating, brown-nosing and back-stabbing — have exerted tremendous, yet unseen, control upon the management of Woodson. The same talents exhibited by club members at the numerous model United Nations they attend each year, have been applied to Woodson with previously untold success. Today — Woodson; tomorrow — the world!

MOTORCYCLE ....  CLUB

"In the beginning, there was Wham-o . . . and Wham-o said let there be roundness, and lo, there was roundness . . . and Wham-o made frisbee in his own image . . . and he was instructed to lead Wham-o's chosen people, the master race, to the promised land." Traditionally, frisbeestorians have pointed to these and other passages from The Book of Frisbee as proof that frisbees were simply created. Eminent frisbeeologists of the past half-century have found fossil remains that have shown that the modern frisbee we know today evolved from the stone frisbee. It is believed that this was through natural selection because those stones of lighter weight tended to fly greater distances allowing them to escape their natural enemies, primarily roving bands of algae and fungi joining forces to form lichen.

SENIOR SCRAPBOOK

To relate the accumulated emotions of four years of high school in words and pictures is nearly impossible, but in our minds they will always live on.

The excitement and apprehension of our Freshman year will not soon be forgotten. As Sophomores and Juniors we felt the pains of maturing and the agony of exams and term papers.

FAIRFAX
FAIRFAX

As a Freshman Paul Rapavi had already begun his running career.

Pam Sidella was one of the senators of our Freshman class.

The Chess Club was alive and well four years ago.

Dave Weston hasn't changed, even as a Sophomore he found time to relax.

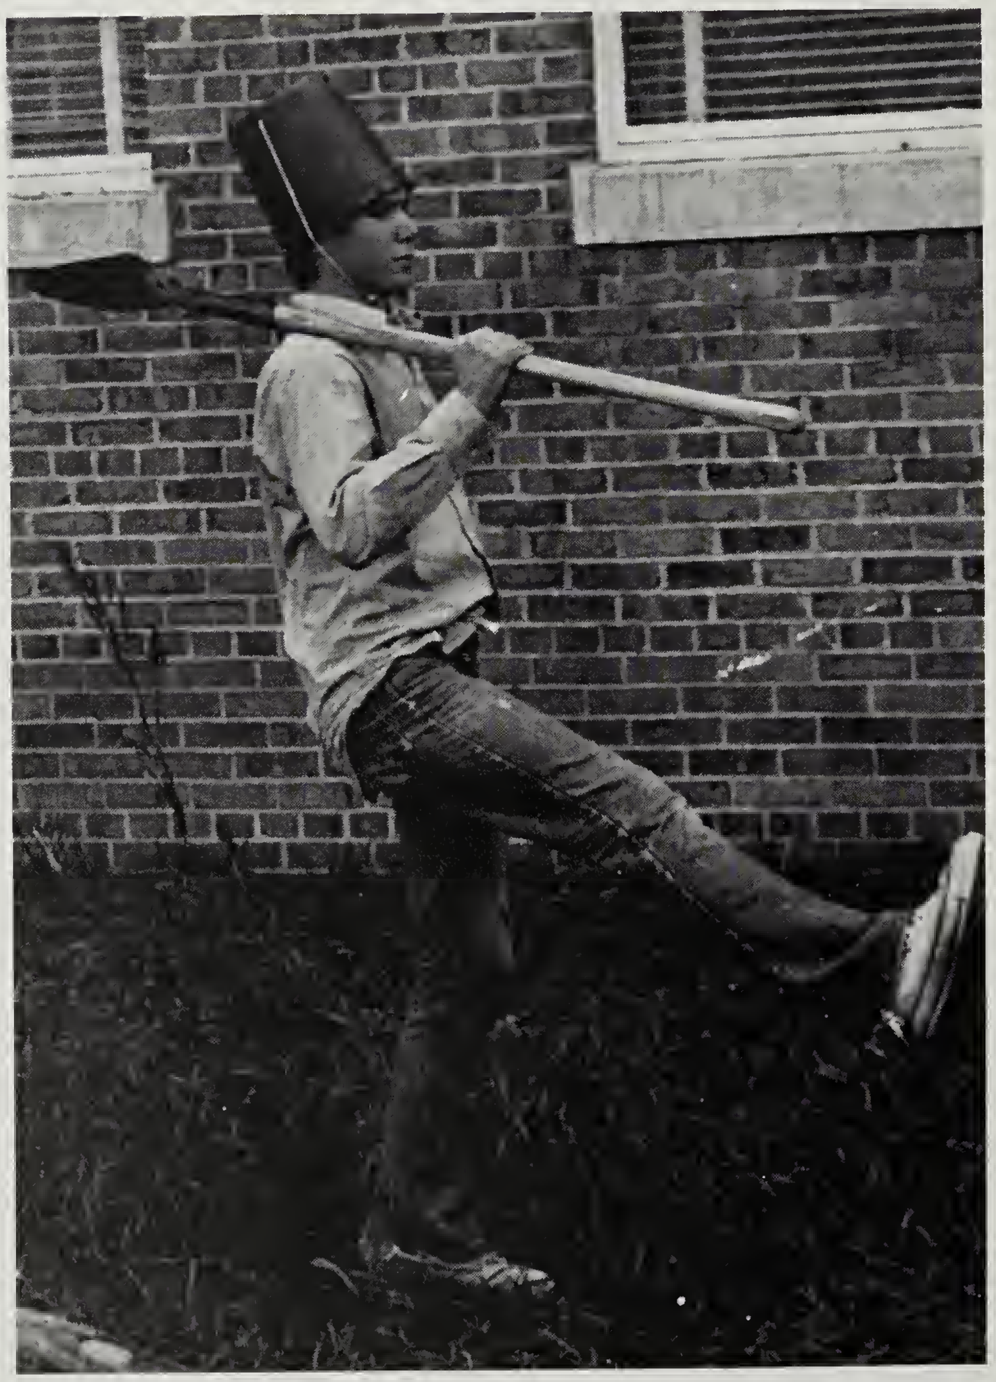
As Sophomores we enjoyed many pep-rallies in front of the school . . .

. . . as well as in the stadium.

The Rising Sun Bible Club had its beginnings then.

As Juniors we were treated to all the comforts of home.

High school began to be looked upon as a stepping stone to college.



We adorned ourselves in the appropriate attire and set off to conquer the world.

DO NOT CLIMB ON BLEACHERS

But the child in us still remained.

Some of Woodson's Seniors take us back to the "sticks."

And then the Senior year; we were finally a part of that elite group, but, somehow, that was overlooked. College became all important and we felt no larger nor smaller than we did in our first year.

Thus we leave Woodson, never to return again, but taking with us the knowledge that we are better equipped to face life.

Float making parties were well attended, as usual.

The float was one of the Seniors greatest accomplishments; it took first place.

Some found it easier to regress rather than progress.

This year W. T. Woodson was proud to recognize senior Margie Moffit, an accomplished swimmer. Margie represented the United States this past year at an international swim meet in Christchurch, New Zealand. An Olympic Gold Medalist, she holds the U.S. record for the 100 Meter Backstroke, ranks second in the world at the 100 Meter Backstroke, and defends the world record for the Woman's 100 Meter Butterfly. Margie, while busy winning her over 450 medals, still managed to take an active interest in outstanding young swimmers, maintain a good academic record, and cover Woodson's art rooms with her work.

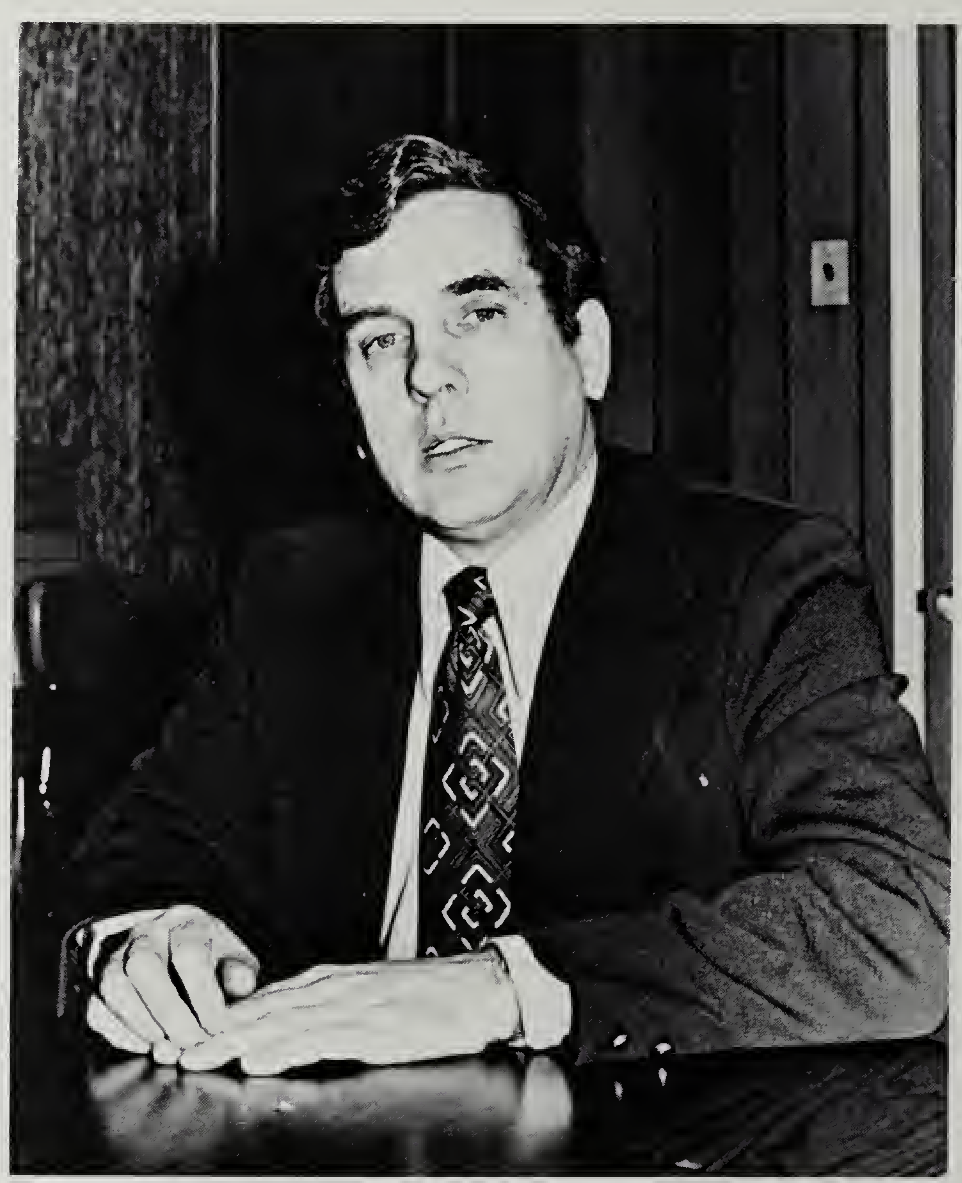
Principal: Mr. Bob Phipps



To students Mr. Phipps is "the man" with the final say on most matters concerning Woodson, but he is a man who is always willing to listen to other points of view. As principal his objectives are "to create an atmosphere and organization where teachers can teach and students can learn," and also a place where people feel comfortable. In striving to reach goals Mr. Phipps has opened the lines of communication through a program in which he talks to individual classes twice a year, and also through the student government. He also has instituted arena scheduling which gives input into their class scheduling. Besides the generally improved condition of the building, two changes Mr. Phipps has instituted which students appreciate the most are the vending program, in its second year, and the successful fifteen minute break after first period. Mr. Phipps hopes that these achievements and others have contributed to the students' happiness here.

Recreation, conditioning, practice, development of skills and the knowledge of rules are the main goals of the P.E. department. Classes offered in archery, basketball, folk dancing and gymnastics help the teachers to achieve these objectives. Fencing, one of many coed courses, was offered this year for the first time.

Home Economics

The Home Ec. department offers fantastic opportunities for students to have fun while learning. Have you ever seen a boy turn red in the face trying to thread a needle? In senior homemaking and gourmet foods, boys and girls get the chance to sew and cook quiche lorraine or pickled fish. Interested? Courses are offered in the basics or the more complicated facets of home economics.

The music department is busy all year. There are four teachers and 551 students involved. The courses offered vary from band and choir to music theory. The year's biggest program was Extravaganza. Others were Faculty Follies, talent shows, concerts and band and choir exchanges.

Science

From the Science Department a student learns the workings of the world around him. Why do plants grow? How do certain chemicals react? How old is the earth and what is it made of? These are some of the questions answered by Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Man-Made World. Woodson students are lucky to have a Planetarium which enables them to comprehend the universe more clearly. The required science courses are enough to stimulate a young student's curiosity about his surroundings and to encourage him to pursue his studies in this field.

It is said that all that has happened will be reflected in our future. Therefore, it makes good sense to take a good look at people, things, and institutions as they were and as they exist today if we are to understand ourselves and the total society in which we live. The opportunity to do so is given by courses in basic history, government, sociology, the humanities, and psychology which are offered by the Social Studies department. Students are pleased with the current nine week mini-course system, but some teachers feel it is not enough time to accomplish their goals. Changes are being comtemplated that may be a part of W.T.W.'s history and affect its future.

Classes in the Vocational Department often require some concentration.

"I'm glad someone here knows something!"

Mr. Powell Metz

If you have ever wandered into the Vocational wing all sorts of new sights and sounds greet your eyes and ears. Beds set up in classrooms? Curlers and hairspray? A loud buzzing noise? It is all definitely different from the quiet halls of the main building during class. The Vocational Department offers exciting courses for students to learn practical and marketable job skills for their use after graduation. If you would like your hair done for a minimal fee the cosmetology students are happy to practice their skills on willing patrons and auto mechanics is always looking for another car to take apart! Nursing, Electronics, and Refrigerator Repair are other classes offered.

With the school's new disciplinary actions at the beginning of the year the library was a hard place to get into. Gradually, though, the rules relaxed and the library soon became its usual study and lounge room where students gathered over books or just to talk to friends.

Without them . . . we would not have our sparkling clean floors, or heat on a cold winters morning.

we would not have hot food (something is better than nothing)

there would be no place to go when we felt bad or just didn't get enough sleep the night before all of these things and many more are provided by special services. Many times we take advantage of these services, but never stop to appreciate those who make these comforts possible.

Hordes of Juniors congregated at Sandy Sennets house for nearly a month and a half to build a fantastic float, "The Little Engine That Could." Working hard into the nights to give the float a personality like no other float before it had, the Juniors grew to love the Sennets, the beautiful float, and each other. Although the float lost, the Juniors had a different kind of victory, a spiritual one. Never before has anything brought the Class of 76 so close together.

The Sophomore Class Officers for the class of 1977 are quite active. This year they have sold McDonald's coupons to help raise money, participated in having a malt shop and helped to build a terrific float. Kathy Delaski, helped by Joy Heath, have achieved their goal to raise the Sophomore Class into being something. Unity now exists because of the hard work the class officers have done.

Sophomores: a group of unknown people. Sure they have their class projects selling hamburgers and making a float but they are in an inbetween stage, a phase all the juniors go through after being a freshman. Theirs is a time to learn about germs and microbes causing diseases in biology class and that "angle A is congruent to angle B" in geometry and how to keep from getting their heads smashed against the windshield and avoid accidents in driver's education.

Sophomore year provides an opportunity to pick on the Freshmen as they were the year before and this year to root for a winning J. V. Football team. Most of all it is a time to turn the long-awaited age—16.

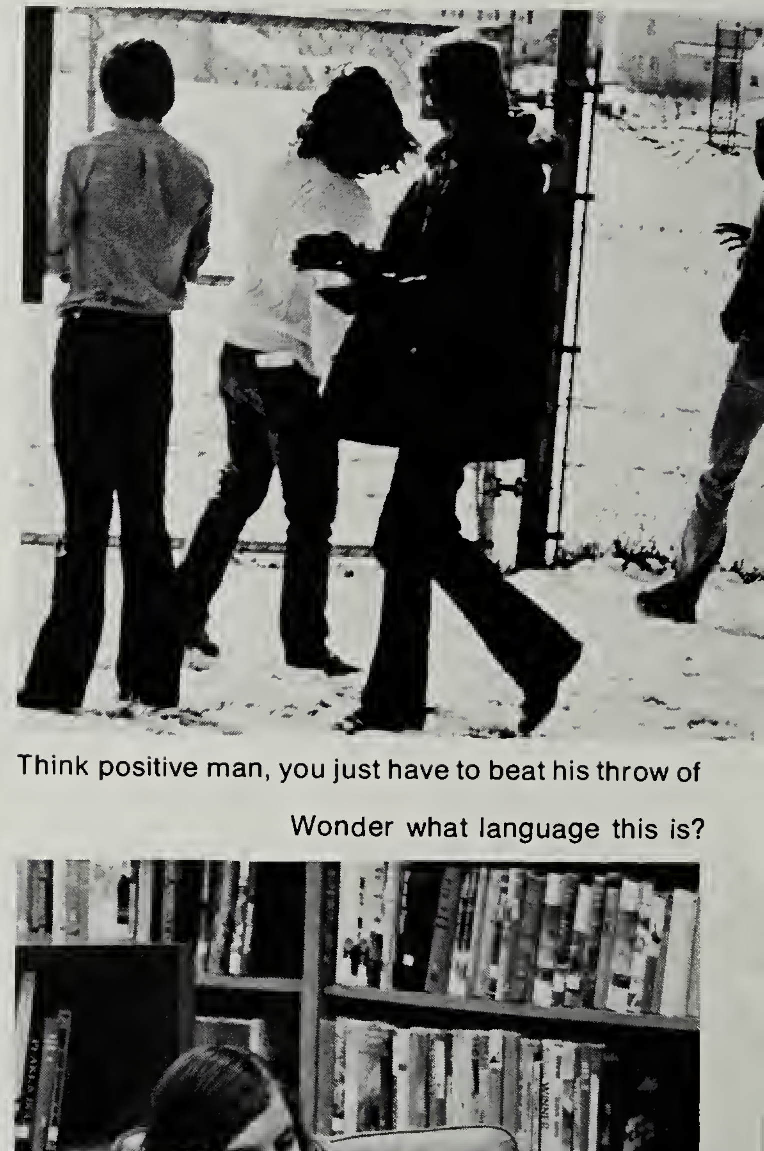
AND NEXT YEAR WE'LL BE

I wonder if there's such a thing as "two left hands?"

Wonder when I should start . . . . NEVER.



Think positive man, you just have to beat his throw of Wonder what language this is?

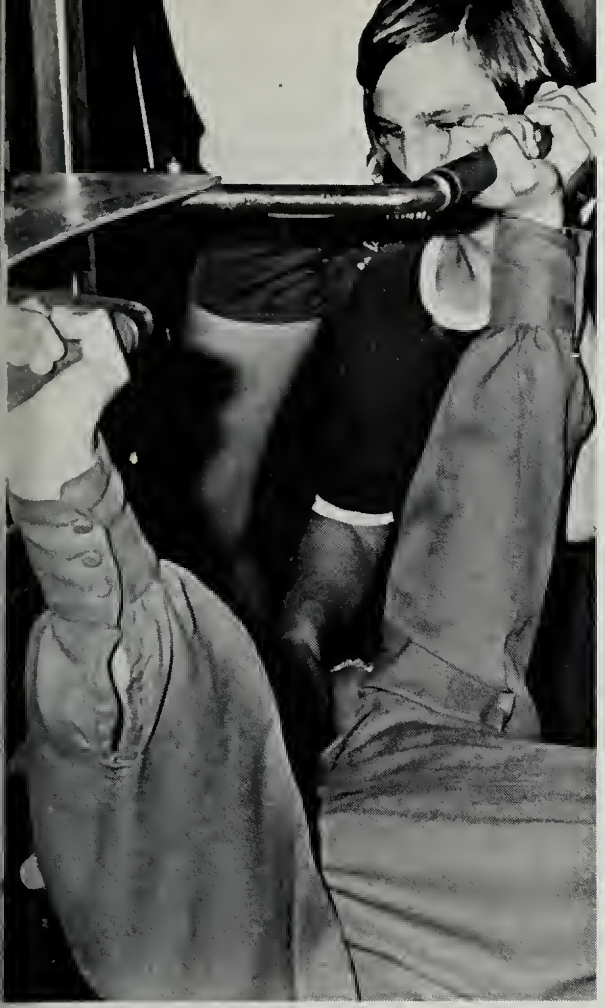
JUNIORS



Now do it with some weights attached.

I feel an ear ache coming on.

169 feet 17 inches.

Hope I think of something to fill up this blank sheet.

Let's see, does "P" come before or after "O?"

Mareen Gallivan Secretary

Nancy Tompkins Senator

Julie Howells Treasurer

Were the Freshmen officers active this year? Well, of course they were. The float, Pooh's Corner, was fantastic, only because of the organization behind it. The president, Laura Minarik, found that although this was her first year at Woodson, her job was made much easier with all the help she received from the Student Government.

Maybe if I smile at her now, she'll give me an A later.

Everything is very simple. The 100's are downstairs and the 200's are upstairs, but where are the 400's? The teachers all seem so enthusiastic. There are so many clubs to join and so much work to do. I'm going to be here for four years, I'm going to have to make them the best I can.

Report cards . . . grades and comments, but are they really? Needs to form better work habits (the student has been seen reading his history with sun glasses on !); needs to use time more wisely (the student would rather watch "Good Times" than work on calculus — unimaginable); needs to improve neatness and accuracy (food stains on his term paper !); needs to show more responsibility and initiative (student had the gall to refuse an extra credit novel due next Tuesday !) . . . report cards . . . what are they? Not much!

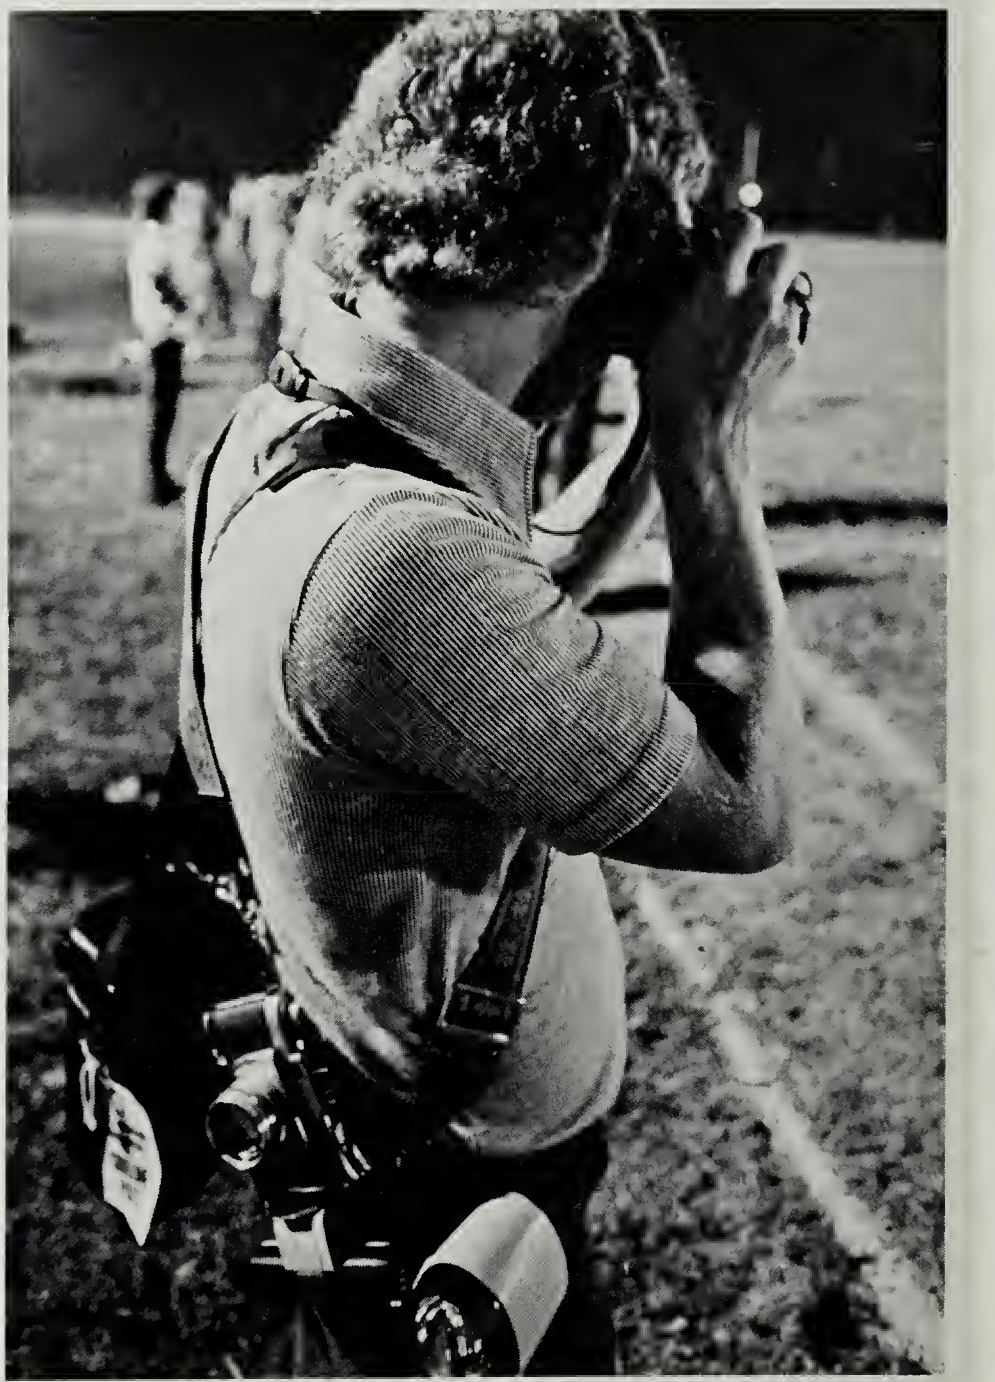
PEOPLE WILL BE PEOPLE



Everyone is different, although we all have many things in common. We share many experiences at school and in the community as well. Students react to high school life in many ways. These scenes of typical Woodson life are just a sample of growing up.

This yearbook is the thirteenth in Woodson's history. Over the last thirteen years, there have been many different events at Woodson which were included in past yearbooks. Those events are all part of the Woodson tradition.

The members of the 1975 Cavalier staff have attempted to put together a unique yearbook. We have used more artwork and new layout styles to create a book that all the students will enjoy and be proud of. The staff did not make the yearbook to suit themselves, but rather for all of the people at Woodson. I sincerely hope that after looking at this yearbook, everyone is brought closer together.
